O'Fallon

O'Fallon was founded in 1854 as a depot on the Ohio & Mississippi Railroad and named for the railroad's president, Col. John O'Fallon of St. Louis. Productive coalmines and rich farmland fueled the town's prosperity. O'Fallon was incorporated as a village in 1874 and became a city in 1905. It is the birthplace of actor William Holden and illustrator Bernie Fuchs.

Schools consistently ranked among the best in the state, convenience to Scott AFB, and easy Interstate 64 access to St. Louis all help make O'Fallon one of the fastest growing communities in the St. Louis area. O'Fallon is a progressive city offering its residents St. Louis amenities such as a world class "free" zoo, museums, live theater, and fine restaurants. Yet, the quaintness and safety found in smaller rural areas are prevalent with fine homes, extensive open spaces, numerous parks, and a historical downtown.

Downtown O'Fallon

"The Organization"

The organization, Downtown O'Fallon, represents the more than 70 businesses in the area depicted on the front cover. It is an all-volunteer organization with no paid staff. Besides representing the businesses, it helps beautify and maintain the area with planters and trashcans. Also, during the year the Downtown O'Fallon volunteers conduct "clean-up drives" and family events.

Downtown O'Fallon purchased and restored the caboose on West First Street and makes it available for special events, including children's birthday parties. It is also responsible for Santa's Hut located at the corner of East First and South Vine streets. Each Christmas the hut is manned by volunteers who provide souvenir photographs of visits with Santa.

Feel free to be a part of Downtown O'Fallon and volunteer – we can always use the help!
